

TEREX

Dealer for Australia, NZ and PNG

telescopic tower enterprises pty ltd

Filament Wound Fibre Glass Booms

A major strength in the production of Terex Elevated Work Platforms is the construction integrity in manufacturing of the fibre glass booms.

It has been seen that booms constructed using fibre glass clam shell methodology are susceptible to cracking thereby risking the weight bearing capacity of the boom.

Terex Utilities Inc have a complete factory dedicated to making proprietary filament wound booms that have been tested to be stronger than steel.

A few photos of the booms being constructed are shown .

